Michael Jeffery Named to Barrow Superior Court

PRA_GSP01_0018551

May 29, 2008, Anchorage, Alaska - Governor Sarah Palin today appointed Michael I. Jeffery to the Barrow Superior Court.

Jeffery, 63, has lived in Barrow for 31 years and has a long record of legal service to Barrow and North Slope villages. Originally from Los Angeles, he graduated from Stanford University and Yale Law School before moving to Barrow in January 1977. He has specialized training in alcohol/drug addiction and fetal alcohol spectrum disorders.

"Michael brings a wealth of academic and professional experience to the bench," Governor Palin said. "The people of Barrow and the Alaska judicial system will be well-served by his expertise and passion for the law."

Jeffery is active in Rotary Club International, faith activities, and an Eskimo dance group. He and his wife, Esther, have three grown children. The family does commercial setnet salmon fishing each summer near Dillingham.

Governor Palin chose Jeffery from a list of candidates submitted to her by the Alaska Judicial Council. She made the selection from the Council's list within 45 days, as required by the Alaska Constitution. The Judicial Council is an independent citizen's commission created by the Alaska Constitution.

Hi Governor,

Sharon L. is about to send out a media advisory on the bill signing ceremony for Monday. Wanted to double-check with you on Huggins?

Just so you know, about 20 or so military members will be present.

Thanks, Kelly

Governor,

I have two final calls coming in re: ANC District Court from Reps. Dahlstrom and Kerttula. I'll put their comments together in the recap for Monday along with interview notes and the summary. I think you have some great choices out of these applicants.

Judge Michael Jeffery passed on his appreciation to you for appointing him again to Barrow Superior adding, "Please tell the Governor thank you. We love it up here in Barrow."

Grrrrrrr. I guess we do - I am just so extremely disappointed in his lack of enthusiasm to work with this administration and his untruthfulness lately. It's been escalating and is so disappointing because he's not being fair to his constituents, nor to the hard working AGIA team, etc. Yet he'll want a spotlight on Monday.

Message:Governor Palin;

I am on the board of Hilltop Ski Area (Youth Exploring Adventure Inc.). My kids have used Hilltop for several years. Many don't know Hilltop is a non-profit corporation. We do a lot for other good organizations - Special Olympics, Challenge Alaska, etc. We are trying to be responsible and just paid off a loan from the Municipality of Anchorage (ahead of time, with interest).

Please keep us in this budget. The improvements to our first-aid function will greatly increase safety and quality at Hilltop. The investment is small compared to the entire state budget, and the rewards will be long-lasting. As a board we are committed to find matching funds from the privates sector.

You have my support and prayer in all the responsibilities you carry for Alaska.

Thanks for reading this and helping us.

Sincerely, Rick Benjamin

The service Hilltop provides to our community is immesurable - to see so many young people enjoying our long winter season with healthful outdoor activities in a safe environment is a joy.

Dan,
Received your letter dated 5/27/08 outlining AKDOT corrective action for oxidation on sign backs. Seems a bit heavy handed to replace sign panels that have been up and directing the Alaska public for the past seven months and show no sign of degeneration. The $60,00.00 warranty bond also seems somewhat high for a job that totals about $72,000.00 and you have paid only $42,000.00.
It also flys in the face your offer to accept the job if the reflective sheeting manufacturer warranted their product in spite of back of sign oxidation. See both attached letters. Yours and theirs. I also have attached a new letter from my aluminum supplier backing up our claim and the accepted submittals you already posses stating the chromate conversion coating has indeed been applied.
Taking into account this new information, if Jolt is still in non-conformance with Standard Secification 730-2.01, please detail precisly what that non-conformance is.

Message:I hope that you do some thoughtful budget cutting. There is too much pork in this year's budget. I remember when costly budgets led to local inflation and work for even more non residents. Let's spread the money out over a longer period of time. Oil prices will not be this high forever.

On the subject of an energy rebate card, I have mixed feelings about that but I suggest that, if this comes to pass, you consider paying people in some areas of Alaska more according to existing cost of living indexes or pay differentials. I strongly support spending money on long term solutions to our energy costs. These should have a long term payback. Examples are wind and hydroelectric power, some solar power, geothermal, wave and tidal power and so forth. Not all of these things will pan out but let's not be afraid to try something new. That would be superior to some of the above referenced pork projects. Some subsidies for energy conservation new construction and retrofits might be financially defensible also.

Lastly, please do not take up partial birth abortion during a special session. This is a divisive emotional issue that is not very likely to be solved in a two week period along with the main reason for any special session.

Subject: E-Mail from Hawaii AG Mark Bennett

Dear Attorney General Colberg:

I am e-mailing (and also separately writing) to ask you to please join the amicus brief Washington (Jay D. Geck, Deputy Solicitor General (360) 586-2697, jayg@atg.wa.gov) is writing on behalf of Hawaii, asking the Supreme Court to grant certiorari in the case of Hawaii v. Office of Hawaiian Affairs (Hawaii's petition was authored by former Solicitor General Seth Waxman). The deadline for signing on is Friday, May 30, 2008, and the amicus brief will be filed Monday, June 2, 2008. I believe all states have a significant interest in the issues raised by this case.

As with every state admitted to the Union after the original thirteen colonies, the United States granted Hawaii lands at statehood. These lands amount to about one-third of the entire land area of Hawaii and almost all land now owned by Hawaii.

PRA_GSP01_0018582

In 1993, Congress passed a symbolic resolution apologizing for the United States's role in the overthrow of the Hawaiian monarchy. Congress has, more than once, considered or adopted words of apology for historic wrongs visited upon the aboriginal inhabitants of North America, and there are more such resolutions pending and possible in the future -- resolutions that could affect many states.

The Hawaii Supreme Court held that this symbolic resolution was direct action by the Congress stripping Hawaii of its sovereign authority to sell or transfer the lands Hawaii received at statehood from the United States, unless and until Hawaii reaches a political settlement with native Hawaiians about the status of that land and aboriginal claims regarding that land.

The Hawaii Supreme Court ruling wrongly turned an apology from Congress into a federal law that has impaired state sovereignty, state law ownership, and the prudent management of state lands. The Supreme Court of Hawaii's interpretation of the Apology Act should be reviewed by the Supreme Court because, under core values of federalism, the Hawaii court's interpretation is inconsistent with limits on Congressional powers to alter a sovereign state's title to lands granted at statehood.

The United States Supreme Court's correction of this erroneous decision will inure to the benefit of all states, as clearly the powers attributed by the Hawaii Supreme Court to the Congress are powers that the Congress does not possess.

An amicus memorandum has been distributed by NAAG, and a draft amicus brief will shortly be circulated by Washington. Please feel free to call me directly on this matter (808) 586-1282 (w) or (808) 372-1404 (c).

This matter is extremely important to Hawaii, and I would very much appreciate it if you are able to join Washington's amicus brief.

Mark Bennett

Thank You so much for allowing the Kincaid funding to remain intact!!

Subject: Kinkaid Park Project

Good Afternoon Governor Palin,

I am sending this e-mail as an indication of my support for the Kincaid Park Project.

I understand that there is a proposed one million dollar figure in the capital budget that you are currently reviewing and I would like to ask that you allow that one million dollars to remain in the budget and allow this project to move forward and become a reality for the people that utilize this fine facility.

The Nordic skiing facilities as well as the soccer community Statewide will realize huge benefits from the upgrade intended for Kincaid Park.

PRA_GSP01_0018594

The Anchorage soccer community is in desperate need of additional fields in order to host tournaments that receive participation from communities around the State as well as the Yukon Territory, The Ina K tournament (Alaska's largest) will draw nearly 3,000 players and coaches during the first week in June and that tournament is currently held in 4 or 5 different locations around the city because there are no soccer facilities in Anchorage large enough to host this event.

Soccer is one of the most popular sports in the nation at this time and the continual increase in the numbers of kids looking to get into playing soccer has placed a real burden on the already minimal facilities in Anchorage.

The Nordic skiing facility would also benefit greatly from being able to create it's own snow during our less than predictable winter weather and the upgrades would allow us to host major Nordic events bringing even more recognition to our wonderful State.

I really hope that you will give serious consideration to allowing this money to remain in the capital budget.

Thanks for your consideration

Don Castle

CH2M HILL and Southwest Alaska Vocational an Education Center (SAVEC) would like to extend an invitation to join us for the graduation of the Electrical training class on Saturday, 6/7. The ceremony will begin at 5 pm at the SAVEC campus located on the King Salmon Air Force Base.

Our current program is similar to the previous class, General Maintenance Technicians, we taught in March/April. CH2M HILL has again supplied instructors from our North Slope jobsite and will be extending offers to all students who successfully complete this three week course. We currently have 19 students participating and they represent a broad portion of Southwest Alaska. There are also two individuals from Southeast attending our Electrical training.

This graduation will be an occasion to celebrate the many partnerships who have made it possible to train and employ these Alaskan residents. On that same note, we would like to see what you can bring to the table, literally. There will be dinner following the brief graduation ceremony and if you are interested in bringing a dish to make this a potluck setting we will celebrate together.

We would also like to notify those who are flying into King Salmon that Pen Air and Alaska Airlines have multiple flights that are conducive to making this a daytrip.

Please RSVP to Annette Wilson at annette@savec.org if you plan to attend. Please let us know your arrival time as shuttle service will be provided from the airport to SAVEC. Hope to see you here.
